

Crisis Intervention

Student Name	Date of Birth
It is the policy of the Spaulding Academy & Family Se will employ any measure which is aversive or deprivin disability to humiliation or unsupervised confinement of the Child Protection Act, or which deprives the child o clothing, communication, or contact with parents, so as or physical health in accordance with Ed 1114.07.	g in nature or which subjects a child with a or to abuse or neglect defined in RSA 169-c f basic necessities such as nutrition,
Spaulding Academy & Family Services has discontinu to manage crisis situations.	ed the use of seclusion and prone restraint Restraint: All staff are trained in Professional Crisis Manual Fully integrated system designed to manage crisis situal PCM strategies and interventions promote positive feet thinking and relaxed physiology. At times, the behavior where the student, staff or others are at risk of injury an intervention to ensure safety. If a physical intervention physical management necessary will be used. The use terminated immediately if the individual shows signs of intervention, the student may try to resist by dropping exhibit unsafe behavior, and can no longer be managed immobilization restraint (Supine only) may be necessaris always placed on a foam safety mat when this procedure rough surfaces. Only appropriately certified staff can in There are certain medical conditions that may preclude not limited to: significant cardiac, respiratory or gastro	tions effectively, safely and with dignity. ings, productive behaviors, rational r of a student may accelerate to a level ad the student may require a physical becomes necessary, the least amount of of any procedure or technique will be f physical distress. During a physical to the floor. If the student continues to a in a vertical hold, a transitional horizontal ry to protect everyone's safety. The student dure is used to shield them from hard or implement this procedure. the use of a supine restraint including but fractures or Down syndrome. By signing, you are stating that there are currently now would preclude the use of restraint if it became necessary.	* *
Signature of Parent/Guardian	 Date